Dear Parents,

Another week flies by and I grow ever prouder of being part of such a wonderful school.

Students have been keen to tell me, on a daily basis, what they have achieved that makes them proud. There is a genuine love of learning across the school which will only lead to even greater successes.

This week has seen us recognise some truly excellent attendance statistics, let's keep pushing on to get the magic 100% attendance mark. It's wonderful to be able to celebrate these awards in our morning assemblies.

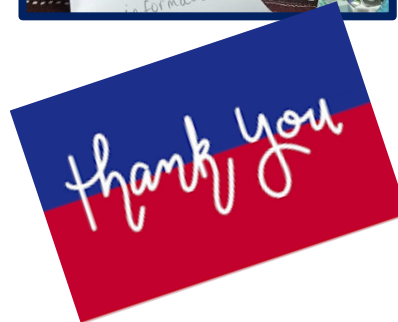

Also, this week we saw a fabulous Y8 presentation on their science projects, to see the students take such pride in their work is inspiring.

Enjoy the long weekend!

CES this week... in pictures...

EYFS

Dear all,

It was great to have all the parents, teachers and even some Secondary pupils come and read with Reception and Nursery on Wednesday. The children enjoyed hearing the stories and looking at the pictures together. Promoting reading for pleasure is important to us at CES Mangaf because we know about the power of reading! We look forward to welcoming our parents back into the classrooms for our next Parents into... event! Have a great three-day weekend!

PRIMARY

Dear Parents,

This was a very special week in our primary school. Our students have been busy applying and campaigning for various students' leadership roles. We are so proud of the initiative and enthusiasm they displayed during this process. We wish them all the best and will announce the leaders next week. I wish you all a safe, enjoyable and relaxing weekend.

SECONDARY

Dear CES community,

This week, our senior students participated in a series of interviews, relating to a variety of leadership positions across our secondary school. The students conducted themselves incredibly well and displayed high levels of confidence, ambition and enthusiasm. I'm very confident that once selected, our student leadership team will add significant value to the continued success of our school.

Also, Year 11 celebrated pyjama day – one of their exciting annual events!

Have a great weekend!
